

would give just to Comparative Anatomy, it would lead to study of instincts, heredity, & mind here & there, while metaphysics. → It would lead to direct & concrete of hybridization, causes of change ^{in order} to know what we have come from — to what we tend. — to what circumstances have arising & what prevents it this direct examination of direct help of ~~species~~ structure in species might lead to less of change, which would then be main object of study, to guide in part of speculation